New Beginnings

January is the first month of the new year. It is time of opportunity and fresh start. A time to review the past and make the corrections for the future. God has given us this new year to show us that we can change with his grace, with his patience and infinite mercy. We need not remain stuck in the past. It is a time to start anew with the precious gift of time and the love which God extends to us. We can move from sin to grace and despair to hope and from death to life. We are surrounded by the ocean of God's love. There is nothing in our lives which are absent from God and His providence.

We begin anew in the hope that God wishes it and shepherds us thru the dark valleys of life with His crook and staff to guide us. We are known and we are loved. We forget what is behind us and we look ahead to Him who forgave our past and points us to the future.

Repent, the Kingdom of God is nigh. It is within you. I love you, says the Lord. I will never abandon you. I was with you last year. I will be with you this year and all the years of your life, until the end of time. Begin anew in January of the year 2007. The new beginnings are here. Grasp the opportunities for growth, love, enrichment and forgiveness. God is with us.

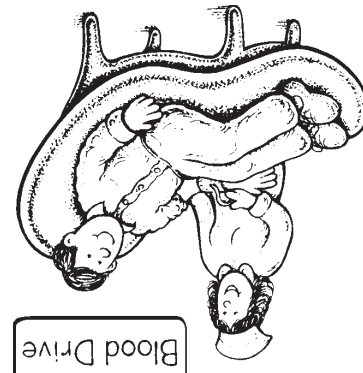

Happy and a Blessed New Year.

Fr. James Catalano, OSJ, Chaplain

Joy From Children

If you're like me, you derive great joy from your children. It's a great feeling when a teacher, coach or fellow parent compliments you on your child.

We all know that raising children these days is no easy task, especially when the values we're trying to instill in them – concern for others, accepting responsibility for their actions, saving money rather than spending it – seem to run counter to what society is trying to teach them. Yet these are exactly the values that tend to draw compliments from teachers, coaches and fellow parents.

We also know that the best way to teach is by example. If you carry enough life insurance to protect your family - and if you share with those of your children old enough to understand why that's important, you're exhibiting and imparting many of the values you hope your children will absorb.

You'll show them by example that you love them and are concerned about their welfare. You'll show them that you take your responsibility to provide for your family seriously, and that you want to make sure that they're provided for even if you're not around. And you'll show them that investing money in your life insurance protection is more important than the new set of golf clubs you might want, the newest and best home theater system you've had your eye on, or whatever else you might be sacrificing to pay the premiums.

Sure, they'll probably roll their eyes at you as you're explaining this, and they'll certainly moan and groan if they can't get the newest CD, video game or piece of clothing. But they learn from what you do – just like they learn from what you don't do. What lessons do you want to teach them?

I want to meet with you to review your existing coverage. Based upon that review, and on the comprehensive needs analysis that I'll perform, free of charge, we'll be able to put a plan in place that will meet your needs, goals and budget. Give me a call.

Thanks!

A big thank you goes to Mike and Diana Seixas for their organizational work and fundraising for the Christmas Social which was well attended, delicious, and a success!

Social

Our January social on Wednesday evening, January 24th, will be hosted by chef Tony LeBourveau who will be serving his award-winning clam chowder and his sensational bread along with side dishes and dessert to round out the evening's delicious meal. Trust us, Tony is a great cook!

Please bring friends, family and prospective Knights to our social. Tickets for the raffle will go to your choice of prize. Feel free to bring "white elephants" as donations for the raffle.

Illness & Prayers

We continue to ask the newly born Christ for blessings of good health to these sick brother Knights who have been afflicted with disease of the body these past months, including sick family members of our Council and those who provide for their care:

REFLECTIONS FOR VOCATION WEEK

Adults - Inspire by the example of Mary, what action will I take this week to become more aware of God's plan in my life?

Children - How can I listen to God this week?

We're asking each member to please fill out the survey below and get it to Rudy Quijance soon! Either e-mail him with your figures (raquija@pacbell.net), or mail it to 108 McMillan Court, Santa Cruz, CA 95060, or give it to him personally at one of KofC events. Thanks!
